

Small Craft Adrift

- Each year the U.S. Coast Guard spends hundreds of hours and thousands of dollars engaged in search and rescue operations where small paddle craft are found empty and adrift.

Small Craft Registration

- Hull registration of small craft is not required by regulation; therefore, search and rescue operations often continue without need, simply because the vessel owner cannot be contacted.

Help I.D. Small Craft

- You can help reduce unnecessary search and rescue operations by labeling your paddle craft.
- Plus, if your vessel is lost, it might be recovered and returned to you sooner.
